What is K-Pop Comedy Night?

K-Pop Comedy Night is a live comedy show where host Kira Weir assigns comedians a K-Pop group they know nothing about and has them research and present their findings on stage. The comedians work without context, so their takes and facts are often wrong, which is, of course, the point.

Founded in Chicago in 2025, the show is built so everyone in the room is in on the joke together: K-Pop fans catch the references and the mistakes, while newcomers get a funny first introduction to the groups.

Because the format is built around a host-plus-comedians structure, it adapts easily to different events. It can run as a solo set from Kira, a two-person show, or a full lineup, and can scale to fit time slots from 15 to 90 minutes.

K-Pop Comedy Night is available to be booked for festivals, conventions, or private events.
